

Living Donor Liver Transplant and Liver Transplantation Liver Transplant Webinar Fall 2026

Join the University of Michigan Transplant Center for a webinar on living donor liver transplant and updates on liver transplantation.

SAVE THE DATE

Wednesday, October 14, 2026 | 6:00 p.m. - 7:00 p.m.

Moderator: Elliot Tapper, MD

Facts and Myths of Living Donor Liver Transplant

Nik Mazumder, MD

What is New in Liver Transplantation?

Alexandra "Sasha" Shingina, MD

Target Audience

Specialties - Endocrinology, Family Medicine, Gastroenterology, Internal Medicine, Oncology, Primary Care

Professions - House Officer, Medical Student, Nurse, Nurse Practitioner, Other Healthcare Professional, Physician, Physician Assistant, Physician Fellow, Physician Resident

Objectives

Participants will be able to utilize the following in their professional practice:

- Describe the rationale and indications for living donor liver transplantation
- Outline the donor evaluation and selection process
- Summarize the key outcomes and risks for both donor and recipient
- Describe changes in indications for liver transplant
- Describe changes in prioritization on the transplant list
- Describe advances in machine perfusion and what this means for your patients

Stay tuned for registration details and continuing medical education credits which have been submitted and are currently pending. For questions or to be added to the email distribution when registration opens, please contact transplantoutreach@med.umich.edu